October or November Class:

The holidays are fast approaching, if you are looking for small gifts for your quilting friends, we have some fun new items like quilt themed band-aids (which are handy to have around!) and small rulers with our shop information on them. We also have a nice selection of former shop samples for sale if you need a special gift, but don't have time to make one yourself. These range from lap size to wall hangings to table runners.

Last, but not least, this is a sweet panel with a matching fabric book. Make sure you take time to enjoy the simple things! Spend some time doing some fun stitching and enjoy this lovely time of year!
